EASTER SERVICES HELD THURS.

Prospect P. T. A. Hear Teen-Agers

Janet Renton

"What Education Means to the Teen-Ager" was the topic for discussion at Prospect's Parent-Teachers Association meeting on Wednesday, April 3.

Some of the students from Ypsilanti High School who once attended Prospect participated.

They are: Andy Fink, Claudia Bedford, John Fagin, Benny Brose, and Miriam Peters.

The program was to show parents what it will be like when their children go to high school.

Each of the students spoke on a different subject.

Andy spoke on the extra-curricular activities. Miriam told of the facilities and equipment of the Ypsilanti High School. John spoke of the difficulties and problems confronting the pupils in making the transition from elementary grades to the High School. Claudia told of the work of the Student Council and how it benefits the pupils in teaching government and an appreciation of democracy. Benny chose to talk about the different subjects offered.

Evart H. Ardis, superintendent of school, served as master of ceremonies.

TWO NEW FACULTY FACES

If you've noticed two new teachers wandering around looking lost, well, you're seeing things because Mrs. O'Hara and Mrs. Bromley have lived in Ypsilanti for about eleven years.

Mrs. Bromley studied at the University of Michigan after which she taught in Saginaw and Plymouth. At the present Mrs. Bromley is replacing Mr. Rickels in teaching seventh and eighth grade English. In her spare time Mrs. Bromley enjoys golfing, swimming, and copper enameling. Even though Mrs. Bromley will only be with us until the end of the semester she says that she is very happy to be a member of the faculty.

Mrs. O'Hara came to us from Belleville where she was a member of the Belleville High School faculty.

Before attending college she lived near Escanaba in the Upper Peninsula. Mrs. O'Hara, who also teaches seventh and eighth grade English, will have to leave us at the end of the semester

N. C. A. Benefits You

MR. WILTSE, MR. JOSLYN ATTEND N. C. A.

by Florence Titiriga

During the week of April 1-5, Mr. Wiltse, Principal of Ypsilanti High School, and Mr. Joslyn, Assistant Principal, attended the annual meeting of the North Central Association. The importance of this association and its functions are not to be overlooked. The purpose of this article is to give you a better understanding of this association and how it concerns you.

The N. C. A. is a voluntary association of secondary schools and colleges. Its purpose is to raise the educational level of colleges and schools. The association has members from 19 states. The members are the administrators from selected schools throughout these states. They form the various committees that make up the organization. The duties and procedures of these committees are as follows:

Each school in the association submits an annual report of specific information which is examined by the state committee. The members of this committee do not examine reports from their own states. After reviewing the information the committee makes recommendations for improvements. If a school or college is below the standards set by the association, it is warned or even dropped. The schools are evaluated according to the results of a co-operative study which gives the criteria for the evaluation of secondary schools. This criteria deals with everything from the size of classes and the length of class periods to specifications of teaching and student-faculty problems.

It will interest you to know that Mr. Joslyn served on the state advisory committee this year. Mr. Wiltse served on state committees for eight years and has been a member of the national committee for the past four years. The national committee is now working on the revision of the evaluative criteria for 1960.

We all should be glad that we are a member of this association. Our school is accredited and our credits are good anywhere. We are eligible for entrance to any college without an entrance examination. (That is, if we have held a good grade average in school.) And we know that we have the best possible opportunities for a good education.

He Gave Us Life,
Let's Give Him
One Hour!

By Louise Frei

The Easter Assembly program was presented with assemblies for the senior and junior high school students. The speaker this year was Dr. Clyde W. Donald, minister at the First Methodist Church. In the senior assembly, Mr. Gant opened the program with a few selections on the organ. After the Easter message by Dr. Donald, Mr. Fry directed the high school in community singing.

At the junior division assembly, the Junior Choir under the direction of Mrs. Bushong, sang the following anthems: The Palms (Lavinia Lynn soloist) O Divine Redeemer, and Open the Gates of the Temple. Dr. Donald also delivered the Easter message to the assembly.

Miss Neville was the general chairman for both programs.

EASTER Triumph Or Tragedy

Easter comes again. This year it is on April 21. The nations churches might well ask: Is it to be triumph or tragedy?

The triumph of Easter lies in the silent empty tomb--the stone rolled away and the angel proclaiming "He is not here; for He is risen".

The tragedy lies in the fact that so many end a period of worship and anticipation of Easter in celebration rather than continued worship.

Easter should actually be the beginning of a wonderful period of work and activity in some church, no matter what faith.

The ultimate purpose of Easter is to make one day a day of triumph and glory in the Christian calendar. It is the fitting recognition of Easter as the beginning of a wonderful goal: to make a new world out of the old and to make Easter last throughout the year.

NATIONAL PERSONEL AND GUIDANCE ASSOC. CONVENTION HELD IN DETROIT

The National Personnel and Guidance Association Convention was held in Detroit at the Statler Hotel in Detroit from Sunday, April 14, to Thursday, April 18.

The membership of this organization is composed of college and public school teachers, administrators, and counselors.

The purpose of this convention is to discuss the most recent practices in the fields of guidance, personnel, counseling and testing.

Those going from this school were Mr. George Canfield, and the counselors, Mr. Heyman, Mr. Skodack and Miss Inwood.

Large Crowd Attends Pancake Supper

Friday, April 5, 1957 the Band Parent's Club put on a pancake supper at Chapelle school. Approximately 200 people attended and enjoyed a delicious supper for a low price. It was only a dollar for adults and sixty-five cents for children, for all you could eat.

The proceeds of about $150 will be used for band equipment and for the trip to Interlochen Music Camp the band is taking this summer. Band members sold the tickets and earned commissions that way toward their own fare for the trip.

Mrs. Matevia was the able planning chairman of the supper.

Personalities In The News

DICK ATKINS

If you've been around good old Ypsi High School very long you certainly couldn't have missed seeing this good-looking member of the Senior Class because he has been here since the 10th grade.

Dick Atkins is what everyone calls this 5'9" fellow, with brown eyes.

He is kept very busy with all his activities which are football, basketball, a member of the Varsity Club and his part in the Senior Play.

His favorite record is "You'll Never Walk Alone" by Roy Hamilton and his favorite dish is Italian-cooked Raviolia. His pet peeve is people who try to score and can't.

After Dick graduates he plans to attend Eastern Michigan College to study Business Administration.

ANNABELLE BARNEY

I'm sure everyone has seen this busy bee rushing around the halls. Her name is Annabelle Barney, and she is the editor of the Sem Staff, belongs to Thespians, G. A. C., Future Teachers Club, French Club, Quill and Scroll, and was in the Drum and Bugle Corps.

Annabelle was born in Watervliet, Michigan, but has lived in Ypsi for about seventeen years now.

For a refreshing meal she prefers to have a hamburger, french fries, and a chocolate malt. Watch out Annabelle that's fattening!

He likes the color green, and a certain boy who is of height, has a butch hair cut, and always has a smile.

Her plan for after graduation is to attend the University of Michigan to take up teaching.

In And About Y. H. S.

I bet this attractive sophomore girl will never be late again now that she has a beautiful new Alpha wrist watch which she won in the magazine sale. She is Marcia Holly.

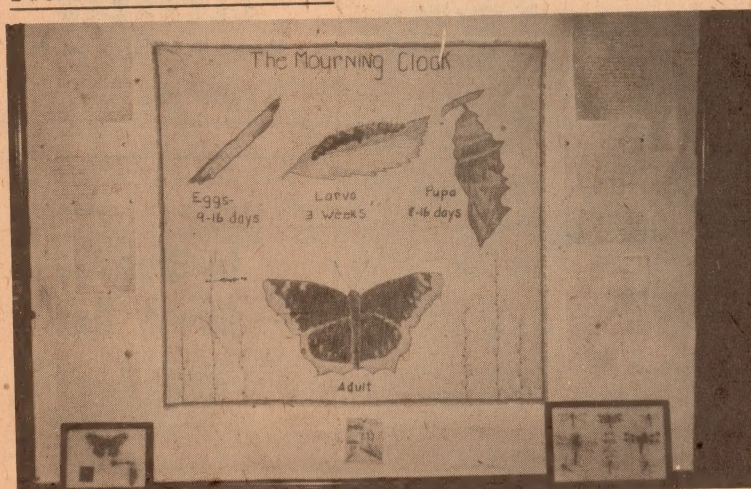

Above is a lucky Junior Division student named Miriam Peters who received the handsome Samsonite luggage, which she chose as her prize for being among the top 35 high salesmen in the magazine sale.

This picture is for people who think that you only find literature in books and English classes. Here charming Miss Wozniak shows "The Doubting Thomases" that you can also find literature in the movies.

At the French Club's last meeting, Mr. Hamburg pictured above, sitting fit as a fiddle, gave an interesting talk and also showed slides of Vienna. For more information see French Club Views Slides.

Studying insects in the 8-B Science Class turned out to be fun. This was one of the life history charts developed. Mrs. Phillip was the teacher of this class.

This dance sponsored by Junior Achievement is open to the public and everyone at your school is welcome to attend. Receipts from this dance are used for travel scholarships and other J. A. awards.

As many of your students are active in J. A. and others will want to dance to the music of Claude Thornhill's piano and orchestra, we hope you will find this release worthwhile. For any additional information please contact me.

Very truly yours,
Paul W. Rank, Jr.
District Manager

English Teachers Attend Conference

Myra Ashby

An interesting weekend was spent by Mrs. Ragon, Miss Jacobs, Miss Jackie Smith and Miss Crothers March 29 through the 31st as they attended the Michigan Counsel of Teaching at St. Marys Lake just outside of Battle Creek.

Along with our own teachers from Ypsilanti High there were present some outstanding speakers and text book writers. Among these were Elizabeth Howard, author of Peddler's Girl and other books we have in our library. She told of the problems of writing and publishing a book.

Doctor Beck, from Central College was among the speakers, reciting and singing Lumber Jack songs he has collected in Michigan. Professor Weaver from the University of Michigan gave an inspirational talk on Browning's philosophy as expressed in poetry.

Miss Crothers and Mrs. Ragon took part in the program showing a popular exhibit of paper back books.

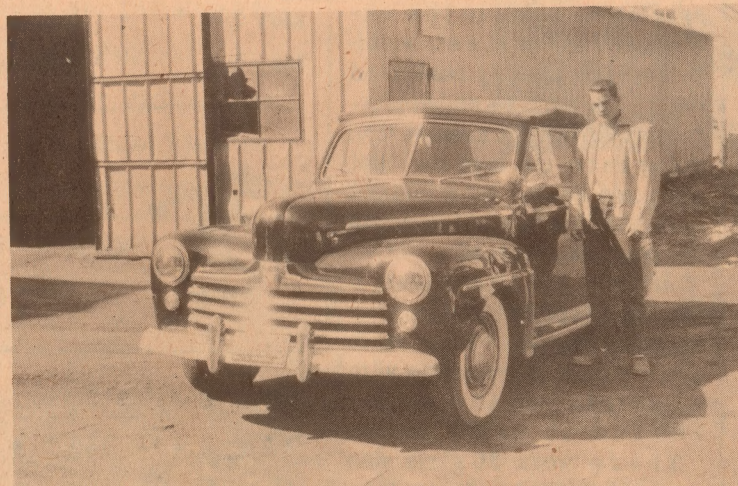

Teen Age Code Of Conduct

This list of Ten Commandments for Teenagers grew out of a meeting between student delegates to the Federation of Archdiocesan High Schools and youth authorities in San Francisco.

1. Stop and think - before you drink.
2. Don't let your parents down; they brought you up.
3. Be humble enough to obey. You will be giving orders yourself some day.
4. Turn away from unclean thinking - At the first moment.
5. Don't show off when driving. If you want to race, go to Indianapolis.
6. Choose a date who would make a good mate.
7. Go to church faithfully. The creator gives us the week. Give him back a day.
8. Choose your companions carefully. You are what they are.
9. Avoid following the crowd. Be an engine, not a caboose.
10. Or even better--keep the original "Ten Commandments."

HEAP OF WEEK

by J. Mike Davison

This week's column is devoted to the feminine side of our reading public. I'm proud to present Dick Kiessel's '48 Ford convertible. As the picture shows, it is a real "gem". It is easily identified by the gleaming black paint job, white sidewall tires, mild customizing, and a sharp Junior as pilot.

Dick bought it from his sister's boyfriend, and with a deal like that I wish I had an older sister.

The interior of the car is exceptionally clean. I understand that Dick does almost all of his own work on the engine as well as the body.

So girls, limber up the old thumb the next time you see Dick and this Week's Heap.

New Student Teacher

Myra Ashby

Y. H. S. has a new and attractive stranger in its midst--a sun kissed blond with sparkling eyes and also such a pleasant personal smile. This stranger is Miss Marco, a student teacher from the University of Michigan.

Miss Marco is doing her preparatory teaching under the direction of Mrs. Horst in the English Department. She is very busy teaching English classes and a Public Speaking class, making assignments and grading papers.

She finds her work at Y. H. S. extremely enjoyable and her only peeve is the Terrible Michigan Weather!

When not busy with her school activities she finds great pleasure in reading poetry and dramatics.

After graduating from the University of Michigan, Miss Marco hopes to teach high school English in New York.

"Oh, my nose?" yells Gary Kins who willfully wrestles David Downs in the 110 lb. class in Interclass wrestling.

Interclass Wrestling

In the interclass wrestling meet which was held between the ninth, tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades, the senior proved victorious as they came from behind with str-ength in the middle and heavy weights to capture first place with a total of 71 points. Se-conda place went to the Jun-iors who had 65 points, while the Freshmen took third with 58 points and the sophomores had 48 points for fourth place.

As was expected, the fresh-men were strong in the light-er weights and at one point had 51 points while the se-conda place team had only 17 points. However the Fresh-men did not have anyone in the heavier weights and this is where the seniors and juniors were able to over-come the early lead held by the freshmen.

By winning, the seniors picked up 5 points towards the Board of Education Cup while the juniors gained 3 points and the freshmen 1 point.

The first place winners are; Barns, Downs, Hayes, Perkins, Tiplady, Meyer, Charles, Bishop, Mikesell, Brown, Newell, Smith.

INTER CLASS BASKETBALL

In boys Interclass Basket-ball, the sophomores took a first place as they managed to squeeze out two victories in two very close games. In the first round of play the sophomores advanced to the finals they edged out the se-niors by the score of 18 to 17, while the juniors also advanced to the finals with a 17 to 11 victory over the freshmen. In the champ-ionship game the sophomores again came up with a vic-tory, this time barely beat-ing out the juniors 19 to 18, to give them first place while the juniors had to settle for a second. In the battle for third place, the seniors eas-ily beat the freshmen by a 23 to 13 score to take third place and left the freshmen in the cellar with fourth place.
